Squirrel Hill Pittsburgh PA

Greeting my name is Aundrae Williams. I am a local artist living in Squirrel Hill Pittsburgh since 2018 but was born and raised in St. Louis, Missouri. My artwork takes a critical view of social justice, the black lived experience, and spiritual faith. I often reference current social topics through exploring the varying relationships between popular culture, fashion, and fine arts. Having controversial subjects in digital art as diverse as political leaders and professional athletes, my work reproduces familiar visual and floral signs and bright colors arranging them into unique abstract designs.

While I use a variety of materials such as wood, resin, and acrylic paint I see the world as my canvas painting on walls, shoes, iron mailboxes, jean jacks and rocks. Some of my work is commission based I thoroughly love branding others business with logos, flyers, pamphlet, album covers and social media banners. It’s very rewarding helping my local community help reach their independent dreams. Outside of commissions my art business is Eazyyokeart. It’s inspire by my mentor, the Late Michael Hill (Pastor) who told me in order to master anything it must be done every single day for year; since then I’ve become in education for 5 year teaching art to High and middle school students and in 2016 I’ve built up to 13k followers in 2016 on instagram by creating viral art. Under my brand I have developed a unique technique of painting on digital art prints using acrylic paint while sealing my art with resin.
